Nixon Takes Off On Siberian Tour After Foiling Reds

Nixon and his party took off in a Soviet jet airliner for Novosibirsk, a big machine manufacturing center of 887,000 population, 1,750 miles east of Moscow. Georgi Zhukov, chairman of the Soviet State Committee for Cultural Links with Foreign Countries, accompanied the American party.

In a farewell speech at the airport, Nixon said the United States is aware that the differences between it and the Soviet Union are not easy to eliminate.

"It is necessary to have discussions at the conference table so that we may achieve an agreed solution," he said.

Nixon expressed confidence that if conferences are held, ways can be found toward adjustment of differences and to peace.

The vice president said Premier Nikita Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders had assured him of their desire to achieve this aim. He said the Americans are equally willing to achieve friendship and peace through negotiations.

Nixon and Rickover, father of America's atomic submarines, collided with Soviet restrictions Monday as they toured the 16,000-ton Lenin nearing completion in Leningrad.

Rickover protested they were getting a run-around because they were allowed only a long-range look at the three reactors that will power the ship. He said Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov, on his visit to the United States, had been given a close

Allies Determined To Stay As Long as Berlin Divided

GENEVA (AP)—The Western Allies today were reported determined to remain in West Berlin as long as Germany remains divided.

Diplomatic informants said a revised Western proposal being drawn up for the Big Four foreign ministers' conference would demand once again that the Soviets pledge not to take unilateral action against West Berlin at any time in the future.

Over the weekend British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd had been reported pressing his allies to accept a Soviet pledge for a limited time. But Lloyd was said today to have agreed with U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter that Western policy on the issue of protection for West Berlin should stand unchanged.

Both the Soviet Union and the Western powers were rewriting their rival proposals for breaking the Berlin crisis. Each side obviously hoped the other would come up with new concessions.

The Big Four ministers planned no meeting today. But the three Western ministers met and were reported to have sought some new formula for resuming stalled East-West disarmament negotiations.

Diplomatic sources said this problem probably would be taken up with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko before the Geneva Conference ends. Gromyko is said to have indicated an interest in the disarmament question in private talks.

There have been no disarmament negotiations since 1957 when the Soviet Union denounced the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee on the grounds that it was one-sided. It was composed of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union.

Some Western diplomats are now thinking in terms of a larger group made up of three members each from the East and the West with a neutral chairman.

The Big Four conference on Germany may be entering its final phase. If neither side gives ground on the Berlin issue the conference may end by the middle of next week or sooner.

Hawaii Holding First Election After Becoming New State

HONOLULU (AP)—The nation's newest state votes today in its first election.

From Hilo to Honolulu, the melting pot of people who live on this 300-mile island chain, cast ballots for two U.S. senators, one representative, a governor and a 76-member state Legislature. The polls close at 10:30 p. m. EST.

It appeared certain — for the first time in U.S. history — that a person of Japanese or Chinese ancestry would be sent to Congress.

Republicans conceded their underdog role but hoped to sweep predictions of a Democratic sweep by grabbing several major offices.

Democrats made a strong showing in the June primary and have won Hawaii elections since 1954.

Election officials predicted a record vote, perhaps 90 per cent of the 183,099 registrants.

Most Hawaii attention was focused on the race for governor, pitting Democrat John A. Burns against Eisenhower-appointed Gov. William F. Quinn.

Burns, 50, serving a second term as elected delegate to Congress, piled up 69,152 votes in winning the Democratic nomination June 27 from a comparatively unknown opponent.

Quinn, 40, got 49,531 votes in running unopposed for the Republican candidacy.

Democrats believe they have a sure winner in Japanese-American Daniel K. Inouye, 34, running for Hawaii's lone House seat.

Another Slash Possible in Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $3,186,500,000 foreign-aid appropriation bill, already far below President Eisenhower's request, faces a new cutting drive today in the House.

But indications were the bill would be sent to the Senate late in the day substantially in the form it was drafted last week by the House Appropriations Committee.

Some members say the amount provided by the committee is too much. Others contend it's too little. The White House has labeled the measure inadequate in its present form and would like it boosted by $390,295,000.

An increase of that amount would provide $3,576,795,000 for use during the present fiscal year to help friendly nations in their resistance to communism. That is the amount authorized by Congress in separate bills setting ceilings for the aid program.

President Eisenhower originally sought an authorization for $3,929,995,000 for the present year. He added 500 million dollars to that request last week with the explanation the extra half billion would be an advance against loan funds authorized for next year.

The committee not only rejected the advance payment of 500 million for next year but lopped $390,295,000 from the amount Congress previously had authorized.

Red Boots Wreck U.S. Exhibit Floor

MOSCOW (AP)—The harried director of the U.S. exhibition in Moscow made ready today to lay a coating of asphalt over 30,000 square feet of concrete floor being ground to powder by thousands of Russian boots.

Harold C. McClellan, general director of the exhibit, said it might be a good idea if some U.S. firm agreed to ship in crew and material to install a durable flooring.

The dust storm is blamed on the poor quality of the concrete floor the Soviets laid.

The floor beneath the great gold dome became a dust bowl after an estimated 70,000 visitors trudged past the exhibits Sunday. Since then cleaning crews have been trying with only partial success to keep down the dust.

7 Men Escape Cincy Area Jail

Newport Bars Sawed During 3-Day Plot

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Seven prisoners, at least two of them considered dangerous, broke out of Newport City Jail early today. All are believed still at large.

Five of the escapees were being held on federal charges. The other two were local men.

Authorities said Demphus Lewis and Howard D. Glenn were under 20-year sentences and are regarded as dangerous.

The departure of the prisoners was discovered at about 4 a. m. They reportedly sawed two bars to get onto the runway of the second floor, where they were confined. Then they went to the rear of the building, forced out a heavy screening and made the short drop from there to the ground.

Alerted and searching were police in Cincinnati and Hamilton County, just across the Ohio River from Newport, and officers from three Kentucky counties. The FBI was also participating.

The other federal prisoners were Joseph Dinardo, Elbert Wellman and Lawrence Adams. The local prisoners were Carl H. Webb and Harry Lee King.

The floor on which the prisoners were kept was apparently unattended, as no violence is known to have occurred when they escaped.

Four other prisoners, held in the same cellblock, did not join the escapees.

Police said those four told them the escaped men had been sawing the bars for three days and had threatened to kill anyone who told of the escape attempt.

Lewis, of Camden, Ohio, and Glenn, of Birmingham, Ala., were sentenced early this month to prison for the robbery of the Farmers State Bank at Glencoe, Ky.

Dinardo, of Glencoe, was awaiting trial on a charge of violation of the Mann Act. Wellman was under a four-year sentence for theft of the federal auto theft law and Adams was awaiting trial on a postal law violation charge.

The two state prisoners — Webb and King — were awaiting trial on charges of breaking and entering.

Aluminum Strike Now Threatened

NEW YORK (AP)—A major strike in the aluminum industry was threatened today as negotiations in the two-week-old steel strike remained deadlocked.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said he expected no agreement in the aluminum industry before contracts with major firms expire at midnight Friday.

McDonald, whose union represents workers in aluminum as well as steel, said the same "no contract, no work" policy covers both industries.

The copper industry also faced a possible strike threat.

Officials of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union were reported considering a strike against the nation's copper plants next month. The union's contracts expired June 30, but its members are working while negotiations continue.

Steel industry and union representatives met jointly Monday for the first time since the nationwide steel strike began.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, met newsmen after the two-hour session.

"There was an exchange of viewpoints by the parties, but I can't say anything beyond that," Finnegan said. "I don't think there was any substantial change in the position of either party."

Finnegan scheduled separate meetings with both sides today. But there was no immediate plan for joint talks.

The situation "doesn't look good," Finnegan said.

The strike threat in the aluminum industry is against the Big Three — the Aluminum Co. of America, the Reynolds Metals Co. and the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp.

Contract negotiations in the aluminum industry are continuing here with the help of federal mediators, but no progress has been reported.

The Big Three aluminum producers — like the major steel companies — have rejected a United Steelworkers' demand for a wage increase of 15 cents an hour in each year of the new contract. The aluminum companies, like the steel companies, have proposed a one-year wage freeze.

Special Grand Jury Summoned

DiSalle Acts on Plea From Venire Foreman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today ordered a special grand jury investigation into gambling and other vice conditions reported throughout Stark County.

The order went to Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

The governor acted on a report from Edgar H. Turkle Jr., foreman of a Stark County Grand Jury who said that body was unable to cope with the situation.

Turkle made his plea personally to the governor in Columbus. He was accompanied to the governor's office by Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch and his enforcement chief, Ivan Smith of Canton.

The governor said the Liquor Department has 18 affidavits indicating gambling, prostitution, illegal narcotics and other vice conditions in the county.

He said the conditions also exist in Canton, Massillon and Alliance.

The governor said officials had hoped the county grand jury But Turkle said "the present situation in respect to gambling in this county is beyond our abilities and facilities to adequately handle."

The governor's request to McElroy termed the situation urgent.

"I hope that you will proceed as soon as practicable within the limits of the time available to you," the governor said.

DiSalle told newsmen that he got a call about two weeks ago from a newspaper publisher outside Stark County. He declined to identify the publisher.

But he said the publisher told him an informant had brought some tape recordings indicating "some out-of-state gunmen were in there and some threats were made against the informant."

He said the informant had supplied information to the grand jury.

DiSalle said the state liquor enforcement chief has those tapes in his possession. They were not identified further.

Asked if the tapes indicate that vice is controlled by an organization, the governor said it appears so.

"It looks like a syndicated mob," he said.

The governor added that Turkle told him a number of things during their conference that he could not make public at this time.

Norman Putman, Stark County prosecutor, said he had no immediate comment on the call for a special grand jury.

However, he pointed out that on May 27 he ordered a cleanup of gambling in the county.

At that time, Sheriff Harry Grossglaus and Mayors David Mainwaring of Alliance and Edgar L. Lash of Massillon had telephone service discontinued to 23 alleged betting places.

Putman said then:

"There exists sound reason to believe that the organized crime syndicate meeting in Apalachin, N. Y. was held to form or further a nationwide conspiracy to operate gambling and vice."

"The trouble we have had here is directly related to the syndicate."

The cleanup, he said, "is no blue law crusade."

"This is a maximum effort designed to meet a major threat to public safety."

DiSalle Opposes Price Fixing Bill

Governor Vetoes Law On Beer Minimums

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Liquor Control Board won't set minimum prices on retail carryout beer sales if Gov. Michael V. DiSalle can help it.

But—in vetoing an act to that effect Monday—the governor commented that the board has authority to cope with certain retail sales situations by adopting regulations.

He specifically mentioned loss leaders; that is, sale of alcoholic beverages at a loss to attract customers.

"It has been clearly established in the past," he declared, "that the liquor board may adopt regulations forbidding the giving of anything of value in connection with the attempt to promote the sale of alcoholic beverages."

"Certainly the sale of an alcoholic beverage at less than purchase price would be the giving of something of value."

The experience of the board in trying to fix minimum prices on wines "has not had the desired result," DiSalle asserted, adding that the power to issue permits to engage in the beer and wine business "does not impose upon the state the responsibility for assuring that a permit holder operates at a profit."

In effect, he went on, the beer act would be "giving legislative sanction to the state entering into the competitive relationship that exists between various types of retailers in the retail beer industry."

And, DiSalle concluded:

"Felling that authority does exist in the present law which permits the Board of Liquor Control to act in the case of unfair practices, I cannot see the need for a minimum mark-up regulation."

The veto was DiSalle's sixth this year, and third dealing with a price-fixing act.

The beer act veto will probably be taken up when the Legislature meets Aug. 14 for final adjournment.

Scooter Crash Fatal to Pair

NAPOLÉON, Ohio (AP)—Two young people riding a motor scooter were injured fatally Monday evening when the scooter collided with an automobile at an intersection of county roads two miles north of Westhope in Henry County.

Victims of the accident were Jerry Komon, 18, of Metamora, and June Hohenberger, 19, of Mt. 2, Holgate.

A witness told deputy sheriffs that Komon stopped the scooter at a stop sign, then pulled into the intersection and was struck by a car driven by Gayle Meekus, 19, of New Bavaria. Meekus was not hurt.

Miss Bartram and Hammond were treated at Berger Hospital. The woman told Deputy Sheriffs Charles Felkey and John Wolford that she was driving because Hammond was under the influence of intoxicants.

The deputies said the car traveled about 300 feet along the right berm of the road and struck a cement culvert. The front of the car was demolished, they said.

Miss Bartram was cited for driving under the influence and no operator's license and Hammond was arrested for intoxication.

Rare Lightning Bolt Kills Boy at Game

As he jogged across the ball diamond in suburban Northridge to his position Monday night, lightning flashed overhead.

Suddenly a bolt seared the evening air and hit the boy.

His horrified father, who had been looking on, rushed the youngster to a hospital but attendants could only pronounce him dead.

Later Jack King spoke of his only son, Jack Jr., 13.

"His Little League uniform was his proudest possession," he said.

Stanley Bowers Named Tax Commissioner

Stanley J. Bowers, Ashville, was reappointed Ohio Tax Commissioner by Governor Michael V. DiSalle Monday. His term expires in February, 1963.

Bowers, who was forced to leave his engineering studies at Ohio Northern University, Ada, and go to work for the Ohio Tax Department in the 1933 depression, is "very, very happy" to be reappointed by DiSalle.

The Ashville native's appointment amounts to $15,000 a year and is a ranking cabinet post.

Bowers' reappointment had been expected in view of his leading role in presenting DiSalle's tax increase program to the Legislature.

Ex-Lebanese Aid Slain in Enemy's Area

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A right-hand man of former President Camille Chamoun was assassinated Monday night while driving to a champagne reception at President Fuad Chehab's summer palace. Security forces were rushed to the scene to prevent a spread of violence.

Police said Naim Moghabghab, 48-year-old member of the Lebanese Parliament and a former guerilla fighter, was beaten and stabbed to death while driving through territory dominated by followers of his political foe, Socialist leader Kamal Jumblatt.

Authorities said those responsible for the assassination had been arrested but did not identify them.

Friends of Moghabghab gave a different version. They said the pistol-packing leader had been gunned down from a nearby house while driving at the head of a caravan of cars filled with his followers.

The assassination sparked fears of a vendetta which could plunge Lebanon into strife similar to that of last summer. It was about a year ago that the assassination of journalist Nessim Metni prompted a widespread general strike by enemies of Chamoun which developed into a five-month civil war.

Nixon Takes Off On Siberian Tour After Foiling Reds

Nixon and his party took off in a Soviet jet airliner for Novosibirsk, a big machine manufacturing center of 887,000 population 1,750 miles east of Moscow. Georgi Zhukov, chairman of the Soviet State Committee for Cultural Links with Foreign Countries, accompanied the American party.

In a farewell speech at the airport, Nixon said the United States is aware that the differences between it and the Soviet Union are not easy to eliminate.

Rickover protested they were getting a run-around because they were allowed only a long-range look at the three reactors that will power the ship. He said Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov, on his visit to the United States, had been given a close look at American atomic installations and "we answered every question he asked."

"I want to see the insides," demanded Rickover. Nixon backed him up.

The shipyard master refused at first but was overruled by higher Soviet officials. Rickover then made a two-hour inspection of "everything I wanted to see." The reactors themselves were inactive.

He emerged to describe the pride of the Red navy "a fine job" but said, "it does not represent an advance in the reactor art."

The incident at the shipyard was the only disconcerting note of the first stop of the Nixon party's five-day tour outside Moscow.

Nixon was reported seriously considering recommending to President Eisenhower that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev be invited to visit the United States.

Jury Continues Ironton Probe

Dozen Witnesses Due In DiSalle Dispute

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — The Lawrence County Grand Jury, investigating a Municipal Court case, continues its deliberations today with more than a dozen witnesses still to be called.

The jury went into session Monday to look into charges by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle that Orville Elias, formerly with the State Department of Industrial Relations, represented himself as someone else at the Municipal Court hearing three months ago.

The original case stemmed from a complaint filed by the State Health Department, charging that former State Sen. Oakley C. Collins of Ironton failed to obtain a permit to build an apartment-office building in nearby Hanging Rock. The charges were dismissed.

Both Elias and Collins have denied DiSalle's accusation.

Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy was here Monday but did not appear in the jury room. A motion by an aide of the attorney general that McElroy be given full charge of the grand jury investigation was denied by Common Pleas Judge Warren Earhart.

And in Columbus, the governor said that the attorney general can call a special grand jury for investigations, but did not indicate that such action will be taken in the Ironton case.

"We are not going to drop it (the case)," the governor said. Elias has filed a $400,000 libel suit against the governor.

The strike threat in the aluminum industry is against the Big Three — the Aluminum Co. of America, the Reynolds Metals Co. and the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp.

Contract negotiations in the aluminum industry are continuing here with the help of federal mediators, but no progress has been reported.

The Big Three aluminum producers — like the major steel companies — have rejected a United Steelworkers' demand for a wage increase of 15 cents an hour in each year of the new contract. The aluminum companies, like the steel companies, have proposed a one-year wage freeze.

Two Injured In Car Crash

Two persons were slightly injured in a one-car crash on Route 22 about 12 miles west of here at 11:05 p.m. yesterday.

The auto was driven by Jacqueline Bartram, 23, Columbus, who suffered a forehead laceration on the chin. Hammond owns the car.

Miss Bartram and Hammond were treated at Berger Hospital. The woman told Deputy Sheriff Charles Felkey and John Wolford that she was driving because Hammond was under the influence of intoxicants.

The deputies said the car traveled about 300 feet along the right berm of the road and struck a cement culvert. The front of the auto was demolished, they said.

Miss Bartram was cited for driving under the influence and no operator's license and Hammond was arrested for intoxication.

Some Still Think Bricker in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Ohioans still think Republican John W. Bricker is their senator. But his former administrative assistant, John M. McElroy, patiently tells them Bricker was defeated last year.

"I've just received 12 letters to Bricker telling him to do something about Jimmy Hoffa (Teamsters Union president)," McElroy said today.

Now on the staff of the Senate Commerce Committee, McElroy says he gets mail for Bricker from Ohioans who really should know better — like presidents of corporations, ministers and school teachers.

Special Grand Jury Summoned

DiSalle Acts on Plea From Venira Foreman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today ordered a special grand jury investigation into gambling and other vice conditions reported throughout Stark County.

The order went to Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

The governor acted on a report from Edgar H. Turkle Jr., foreman of a Stark County Grand Jury who said that body was unable to cope with the situation.

Turkle made his plea personally to the governor in Columbus. He was accompanied to the governor's office by Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch and his enforcement chief, Ivan Smith of Canton.

The governor said the Liquor Department has 18 affidavits indicating gambling, prostitution, illegal narcotics and other vice conditions in the county.

He said the conditions also exist in Canton, Massillon and Alliance. The governor said officials had hoped the county grand jury But Turkle said "the present situation in respect to gambling in this county is beyond our abilities and facilities to adequately handle."

The governor's request to McElroy termed the situation urgent. "I hope that you will proceed as soon as practicable within the limits of the time available to you," the governor said.

DiSalle told newsmen that he got a call about two weeks ago from a newspaper publisher outside Stark County. He declined to identify the publisher.

But he said the publisher told him an informant had brought some tape recordings indicating "some out-of-state gunmen were in there and some threats were made against the informant."

He said the informant had supplied information to the grand jury.

DiSalle said the state liquor enforcement chief has those tapes in his possession. They were not identified further.

Asked if the tapes indicate that vice is controlled by an organization, the governor said it appears so.

"It looks like a syndicated mob," he said.

The governor added that Turkle told him a number of things during their conference that he could not make public at this time.

Norman Putman, Stark County prosecutor, said he had no immediate comment on the call for a special grand jury.

However, he pointed out that on May 27 he ordered a cleanup of gambling in the county.

At that time, Sheriff Harry Grossglau and Mayors David Mainwaring of Alliance and Edgar L. Lash of Massillon had telephone service discontinued to 23 alleged betting places.

Putman said then: "There exists sound reason to believe that the organized crime syndicate meeting in Apalachin, N. Y. was held to form or further a nationwide conspiracy to operate gambling and vice."

"The trouble we have had here is directly related to the syndicate."

The cleanup, he said, "is no blue law crusade."

"This is a maximum effort designed to meet a major threat to public safety."

Rare Lightning Bolt Kills Boy at Game

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—He had just made the third out of the inning.

As he jogged across the ball diamond in suburban Northridge to his position Monday night, lightning from a threatening summer storm flashed overhead.

Suddenly a bolt seared the evening air and hit the boy.

His horrified father, who had been looking on, rushed the youngster to a hospital but attendants could only pronounce him dead.

Later Jack King spoke of his only son, Jack Jr., 13.

"His Little League uniform was his proudest possession," he said.

Stanley Bowers Named Tax Commissioner

Stanley J. Bowers, Ashville, was reappointed Ohio Tax Commissioner by Governor Michael V. DiSalle Monday. His term expires in February, 1963.

Bowers, who was forced to leave his engineering studies at Ohio Northern University, Ada, and go to work for the Ohio Tax Department in the 1933 depression, is "very, very happy" to be reappointed by DiSalle.

The Ashville native's appointment amounts to $15,000 a year and is a ranking cabinet post.

Bowers' reappointment had been expected in view of his leading role in presenting DiSalle's tax increase program to the Legislature.

HE HAS BEEN commissioner since 1954, when he was named to the post by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Contacted at his home in Ashville, Bowers commented that he is "very, very happy to be reappointed," and feels the governor's program is "very challenging."

Bowers, now 47, began his career as an inspector in the Excise Tax Division. He went to law school nights at Franklin University here, and was admitted to the bar in 1940.

He has lived in Ashville all his life, married an Ashville girl and has two daughters, Judith and Mary Jo, both Ohio State University students.

Past president of the National Assn. of Tax Administrators, Bowers is finishing his term as president of the National Tax Assn., a 2,500-member organization of persons in the tax field.

A brother, Dr. Harold J. Bowers, also of Ashville, is assistant superintendent in charge of instruction for the Ohio Department of Education.

Stock Mart Is Paced by Oil Shares

NEW YORK (AP)—Oil shares paced a mild upturn in stock market prices early this afternoon. Trading moved at a moderate tempo.

Most key issues pushed fractions to a point or so higher. A smattering of losers emerged on the list.

The leading oils generally picked up at least a point as many companies in the industry turned in sharply improved first half earnings reports.

Steels, motors, metals, chemicals, rails, tobaccos and drugs generally posted advances. A few rubbers and selected issues slipped.

The market started off fractionally higher and then steadily added to its gains with the oils leading the way.

Gulf Oil scored the smartest gain among the rails, 2 points. Ohio Oil combed more than 1. Standard Oil (New Jersey), Texaco, Royal Dutch and Standard Oil (California) all rose around a point. Richfield Oil, after falling nearly 2, rebounded to pick up a point.

Lukens led the steels with a gain of about 1. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem inched up fractions. Most motors posted small gains.

Chemicals continued to show strength. Dupont spurred ahead more than 4, Allied Chemical more than 1 and Union Carbide about 1.

Rails, which have lagged behind the general market advance in recent sessions, pushed fractionally higher.

American Tobacco and Lorillard both tacked on around a point.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was 70 cents higher at $23.50 with the industrials up $1.30, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

Most U.S. government bonds trickled lower in moderate trading. Corporate bonds shifted aimlessly.

Auto Club Gets Unexpected Visit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Taking a route definitely not recommended by the Columbus Automobile Club, a woman driver

bounced her car over the curb, across the sidewalk and through the club's plate glass window Monday.

The driver, Mrs. Manfred Linick of Columbus, had visited the club a few minutes earlier for travel information and then picked up her husband. He said he believes the car veered "when the right wheel froze."

There are several consolations. The Linicks' insurance agent was walking nearby when the accident happened. And the club's general manager, Russell Campbell, said he had been discussing the need for remodeling the front only a couple hours earlier.

The Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Friday approved Williamsport's transfer of $5,000 from its Natural Gas fund to its Water Works Operation fund.

The Williamsport petition stated that a large surplus was in its gas fund but that needed funds for improvement of its water works operation was lacking in that fund.

Common Pleas Judge William Ammer approved the petition noting that the Williamsport petition was approved by the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals.

Stock Mart Is Paced by Oil Shares

NEW YORK (AP)—Oil shares paced a mild upturn in stock market prices early this afternoon. Trading moved at a moderate tempo.

Most key issues pushed fractions to a point or so higher. A smattering of losers emerged on the list.

The leading oils generally picked up at least a point as many companies in the industry turned in sharply improved first half earnings reports.

Steels, motors, metals, chemicals, rails, tobaccos and drugs generally posted advances. A few rubbers and selected issues slipped.

The market started out fractionally higher and then steadily added to its gains with the oils leading the way.

Gulf Oil scored the smartest gain among the rails, 2 points. Ohio Oil combed more than 1 Standard Oil (New Jersey), Texaco, Royal Dutch and Standard Oil (California) all rose around a point. Richfield Oil, after falling nearly 2, rebounded to pick up a point.

Lukens led the steels with a gain of about 1. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem inched up fractions. Most motors posted small gains.

Chemicals continued to show strength. Dupont spurred ahead more than 4, Allied Chemical more than 1 and, Union Carbide about 1.

Rails, which have lagged behind the general market advance in recent sessions, pushed fractionally higher.

American Tobacco and Lorillard both tacked on a point.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was 70 cents higher at $23.50 with the industrials up $1.30, the rails up 30 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

Most U.S. government bonds trickled lower in moderate trading. Corporate bonds shifted aimlessly.

Auto Club Gets Unexpected Visit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Taking a route definitely not recommended by the Columbus Automobile Club, a woman driver

bounced her car over the curb, across the sidewalk and through the club's plate glass window Monday.

The driver, Mrs. Manfred Linick of Columbus, had visited the club a few minutes earlier for travel information and then picked up her husband. He said he believes the car veered "when the right wheel froze."

There are several consolations. The Linicks' insurance agent was walking nearby when the accident happened. And the club's general manager, Russell Campbell, said he had been discussing the need for remodeling the front only a couple hours earlier.

U.S. Plans 3 Satellite Firings Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was reported to have plans for three satellite launchings in the next few months. One will be an effort to put a 375-pounder into orbit around the moon.

The reports were from informed sources. Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration neither confirmed nor denied them.

Scheduled for early August is an effort to send a satellite in a great elliptical shaped orbit extending from about 150 miles above the earth to 20,000 miles, the informants said.

Launched aloft by a Thor-Able rocket, 140-pound satellite 29 inches in diameter, would be equipped with four offshoots resembling paddle wheels. These wheels of solar cells will be designed to collect energy from the sun to power radio transmitters.

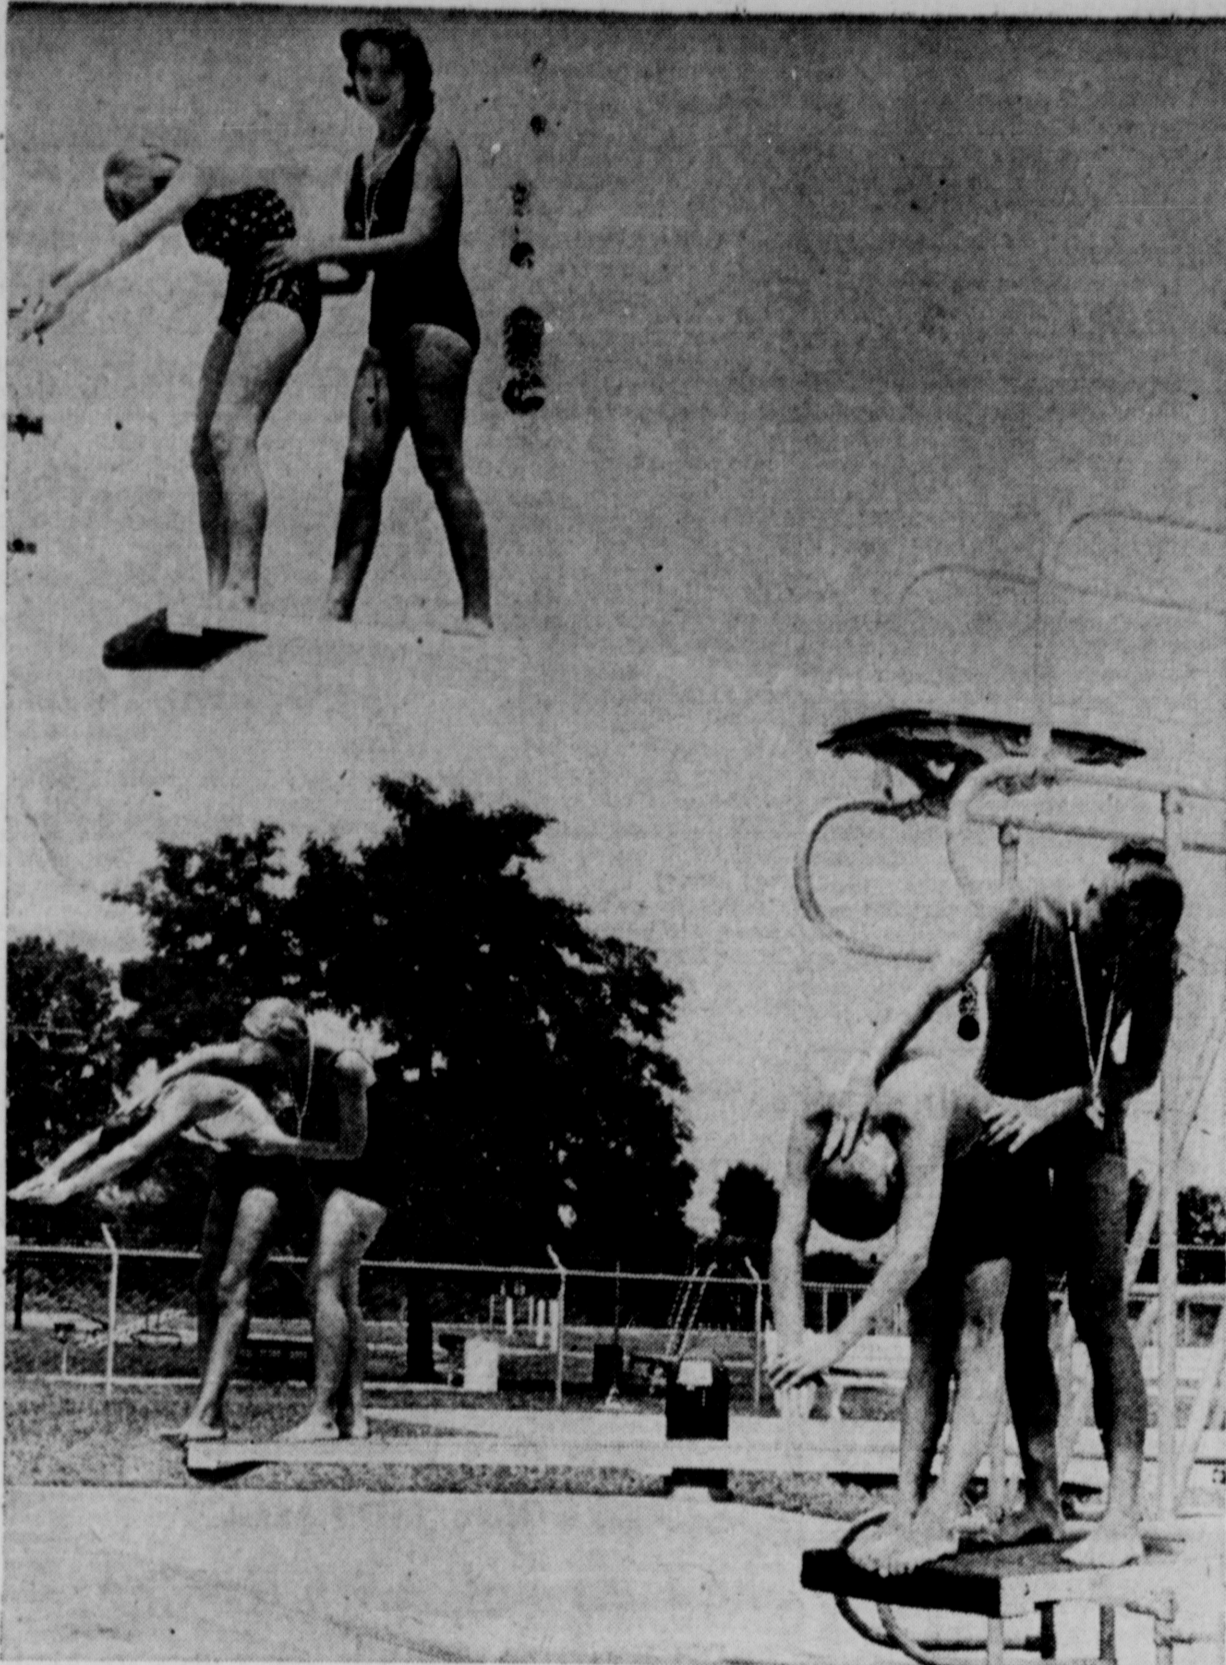

In October will come the effort to put a 375-pound satellite in the vicinity of the moon, and, if all goes well, into orbit around the moon.

Also planned is an attempt to put an 80-pound satellite, launched by a Thor-Able rocket, into orbit around the sun.

A train of 30,000 cars — long enough to extend from New York City to Richmond, Va. — is needed to transport bituminous coal from mine to market each day.

Economic Growth Tops Reported Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Federal Reserve Board said today U.S. economic growth in the last 10 years has actually been much greater than shown by the board's measuring rod—the industrial production index.

William M. Martin told the Senate-House Economic Committee the index is being substantially revised on the basis of new data.

The revision shows that the index actually stands at 165 on a seasonally adjusted basis instead of the 155 previously announced for June. The 155 figure was an all-time record.

The federal reserve chairman said the final results of the revision are not ready but will be soon.

Economic Growth Tops Reported Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Federal Reserve Board said today U.S. economic growth in the last 10 years has actually been much greater than shown by the board's measuring rod—the industrial production index.

William M. Martin told the Senate-House Economic Committee the index is being substantially revised on the basis of new data.

The revision shows that the index actually stands at 165 on a seasonally adjusted basis instead of the 155 previously announced for June. The 155 figure was an all-time record.

The federal reserve chairman said the final results of the revision are not ready but will be soon.

Cincinnati Area Plant Closed by Bomb Threat

CINCINNATI (AP)—A telephone bomb threat caused officials of a Crosley Corp. plant in nearby Evendale to send day shift production workers home at noon Monday. But police and guards, after a search, said the anonymous threat was a hoax. The plant makes military electronic equipment.

Needle-Size Shot of Inflation

Americans are now producing, spending and earning at the annual rate of $470.2 billion, according to government estimates of the gross national product. This index is expected to spiral upward to near $500 billion later this year unless a long steel strike or another development has a greater impact on the economy than is now foreseen.

That the rise will continue is all but inevitable. One reason is that the generally predicted steel settlement will result in a hike of several dollars a ton in steel prices.

That would be only a needle-size shot at inflation, but it would keep the spiral moving up. Steel increases will be felt in a wide range of consumer goods, all of them adding to the cost of living—now at an all time high level—and shoving the gross national product continuously higher.

The national total would go upward in any case during normal economic periods because of production and population gains. But higher prices have been the big factor in the increase during the 20 years in which the 100-cent dollar of 1939 has been shorn of more than half of its purchasing power.

That inflation will continue is now a common prediction. Some leftist economists hope that the gross national product will exceed a trillion dollars in 20 years. That could come true unless the country gets an economic slap in the face that is clearly attributable to inflation.

It would then be seen whether the public is willing to undergo the change of habit and the punishment that stabilizing policies required.

Another Dietrich Is Discovered

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A young Swedish girl with Civil War eyes—they're blue-gray, sonny—hopes to springboard to fame in the same role that made Marlene Dietrich an international star.

"I only hope it will do for me what it did for her," said May Britt.

She wasn't even born when Dietrich broke grandpa's heart 30 years ago with a pair of enticing gams and a throaty voice singing "Falling in Love Again." The film: "The Blue Angel."

The same song is retained in the new version of the picture. "It has an even more interesting title in German," said May. "It is called, 'I am from head to foot made for love.'"

This seems like a pretty fair description of May herself. She is vibrantly slim, and her saucy freckled face is half-draped by long hair the color of August wheat.

May made her American debut in a few memorial scenes opposite

Marlon Brando in "The Young Lions." But before that she made 11 films in Rome, where she stacked up well against the competition of such native daughters as Sophia Loren and Gina Lollobrigida.

A girl of startling beauty, she says she doesn't mind sexy roles—at least at this stage of her career.

But May has a strong distaste for bust-and-hip publicity—she doesn't like to give her personal measurements, dislikes being asked to compare European and American men.

"I don't actually know my own weight," she said. "I find it a great bore to speak about weight. Weight is very much an American preoccupation. I am not worried if friends gain or lose a few pounds. I still think the same of them."

"As to what men are most attractive, I married an American. That should settle that."

Her husband, Edwin Gregson, is a student at Stanford University. May—it's pronounced My—was born Maybritt Wilkens in a suburb of Stockholm. Her father is a Swedish postal employee. She had worked as a baby sitter and waitress when Carlos Ponti, an Italian producer, discovered her.

She admires Ingrid Bergman, Greta Garbo, and Dietrich but takes pains not to imitate them.

"I like movement—hustle and bustle—people coming and going. I like to hear the telephone ring, and I love to come home and find a pile of messages waiting for me. But I hate to go to parties. Crowds make me shy. Too many people I can't stand around me all at once."

Eventually May hopes to have five or six children, but her career is of top interest now. She disciplines herself strictly.

"I take one drink a year and smoke one cigarette a week," she said. "I have no minor vices."

"What do I like to do? I like to do exactly what I want. You have to be in this business strong-willed."

Soviet Conquests Immoral

By George Sokolsky

Soviet Russia pursues the course of empire differently from the great empire builders of the past. The Romans, for instance, sent their legions to conquer countries; the Russians do not conquer, they subdue. Napoleon, when he took over lands, reorganized them, placed new rulers over them, established dynasties; the Russians operate through a universal political party, always utilizing natives to establish an indigenous Soviet government and to execute its orders.

Hitler built an economic-military empire of great power and wealth but never permitted himself to consolidate his gains; the Russians utilize all the propagandistic devices available to gain time to achieve such a consolidation.

Of these devices, the most clever is the utilization of intellectual confusion throughout the world. While lesser groups appeal to what in this country are called the grass roots, the Russians in every country devote themselves most assiduously to the leadership group.

Native Communist parties work among the minority elements in this country, such elements as Negroes, Jews, pacifists, etc. But the Russians, as Russians, only meet the rich and the powerful.

Well prepared arrangement are made to meet such great and important personalities. But even greater effort is set forth to convince all the intellectual elements of every country that Soviet Russia is superior to all other countries.

The psychological effect of this brilliantly planned effort is already visible in the United States. It is partly due to the previous general down-grading of Russia. For years, Americans were told that they possessed something called "know-how" which made them a superior race. Nobody else possessed this quality.

Then came Sputnik and it was suddenly discovered that Soviet Russia also possessed "know-how." The effect was startling to those who were so ignorant of history as to have forgotten that for at least 1,000 years, Russia was a rising power in Europe. It was the same mentality that underestimated Japan before World War II and that failed to recognize that much of our "know-how" originated in Germany.

This does not, in any manner, lessen the significance of the United States or question our brilliant achievements over as short a period as 170 years of national existence. It simply is a recognition of facts and when one recognizes facts, there are fewer surprises.

Our tourists who go to Moscow and discover a large building are shocked into forgetting that in New York or Pittsburgh or Chicago such buildings crowd each other on the skyline. They discover a university in Moscow, where they expected only ignorant moujiks, and they forget that in a city like New York there are about 60 institutions of higher learning. Nobody makes a fuss about that. It is expected of us.

Empire builders are always attractive and astonishing. Given time and perspective, and Hitler's idiosyncrasies will play less a part in the historic description of him than his startling achievement of making it possible for a country like Germany to fight on multiple fronts for six years. Even his death might make the last act of an opera!

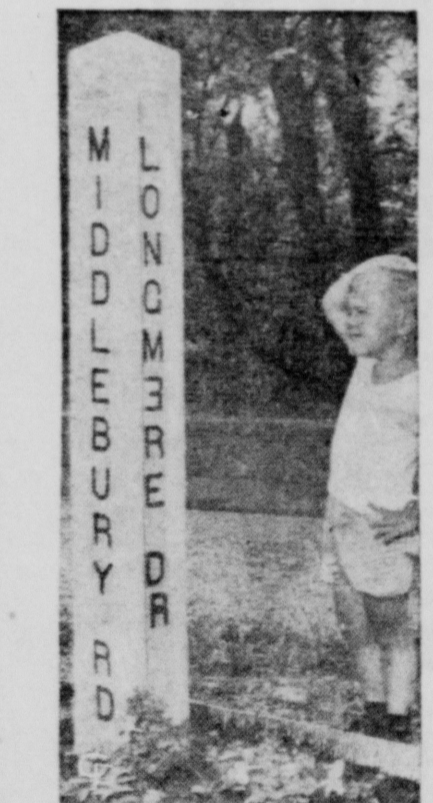

The moral question of empire is too often overlooked altogether. Soviet Russia has expanded, partly by the accident of war but principally by intrigue, assassination, mob bloodshed, but always by fictitious propaganda. All one has to read is the huge volume of falsehoods that Soviet Russia and her satellites let loose about the United States.

For instance, we are not supposed to enjoy freedom of the press. Why? Because our press is commercial and monopolistic. Soviet Russia's press is free, why? Because the entire press is owned by the government.

In the United States, such pro-Russian publications as "The Worker," "The National Guardian," "Masses and Mainstream," "The Nation" are published without any interference. Are there similar publications in Soviet Russia? No! Such publications could not get paper, ink or workers.

Yet, we do not have a free press and they do! This is part of their propaganda of down-grading the United States and as astonishing as it may seem, it works in many parts of the world.

The Russian techniques of empire-building are new, brilliant and competent. They are also immoral. Against their efforts, ours have not been very successful because our officials are responsible to public opinion and our people would not relish Russian methods when practised by Americans.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

NEW YORK COPS are used to just about everything, but one traffic officer was stopped cold at the sight of an old sedan parked on a sidewalk with four occupants solemnly fishing out of its open windows.

The man in the driver's seat furtively beckoned to the cop, "The poor nuts think they're going to catch some salmon here. I'm humoring them by playing along."

"You're in a 'no parking' area, buddy," interrupted the cop, "so you'll have to humor your nutty friends some place else."

"O.K., if that's the way you feel about it," nodded the driver—and pulled out a pair of oars.

Annual Checkup Is Necessary

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
What you don't know might hurt you.

So get the facts, fast—with an annual health audit.

I don't know how many times I have urged you to have a thorough checkup at least once each year. But this advice is just as sound today as it was the first time I mentioned it, over forty years ago.

To help you get as thorough an examination as possible, I suggest you request the following:

Have all organs—even if they appear to be functioning perfectly—tested for their efficiency. There are tests which will indicate how these organs react to a challenge and how they rate for future endurance.

Not only should they be tested at rest, but also under stress. For example, there is the Haines cold-water test for future high blood pressure and the Master test for the heart.

An anatomical test might reveal conditions which can be used as an aid to health and possibly in prolonging life.

Of course the doctor will take your complete medical history. If you see him every year, this is a relatively simple matter.

While this might not seem important to you, it is a great help to the doctor in trying to determine what might happen in the future as well as at present. Heredity, too, plays a major role in the overall picture.

The doctor will also want to know how you spend your work day and your leisure hours.

A comprehensive oral report will generally be of great value in helping him judge what your future health is apt to be. This will indicate to the physician just where the greatest stress is likely to occur.

And if you are abusing your health by overdoing anything during your leisure time, this will show up, too.

Another important aspect of any general over-all checkup is a psychological examination. Perhaps it would pay to consult a psychiatrist if you have any grave concerns or troublesome mental habits which are affecting your physical well being.

At least ask your doctor about it.

Question and Answer
Mrs. E.A.M.: What is myopia? Will a child afflicted with this have to wear glasses the rest of his life or will the glasses correct the condition?

Answer: Myopia is nearsightedness. The condition often increases until the age of 18 or 20 and then becomes stable. In later years it may improve somewhat.

Glasses are necessary to permit comfortable vision and to slow up the progressive process. Usually they will be necessary throughout life.

The World Today

By James Marlow

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—An American's life in the Soviet Union seemed simple to U.S. Vice Admiral Hyman G. Rickover—until the Soviets told him "nyet," which is long for nix.

But he blew up such a storm that the Soviets, who probably never met anyone like the cocky, peppery Rickover before, finally said "da," which is short for yes.

What Rickover had seemed to forget or not understand was that, as a member of Vice President could do things an American staple, Richard M. Nixon's party, he tied in Moscow wouldn't or couldn't do.

Right after his arrival with Nixon, Rickover, in civilian clothes, strode into the American Embassy, called together all the American naval officers assigned to the embassy, and said: "Let's take a walk."

The parade started. He spotted an apartment house, darted in, knocked on the doors, had a Russian-speaking naval aide explain who he was, asked the tenants how they lived, what they did, how much they earned.

Once outside Rickover, a pioneer in the atomic field, must have felt he had just blazed a new trail in door-knocking. He asked an aide: "Did you ever do this?" When the man said no, Rickover replied: "Why not? It's the only way to find out things."

The story from Moscow didn't say what Rickover's naval aides said. They could have told him that Americans attached to the Embassy in Moscow are not as free to skip around and poke their noses into things as a member of the Nixon party. Many official Soviet doors have been opened—up to a point—for the official visitors.

One American government employee, who spent years in Moscow, explained to this writer: "There are some apartment houses in Moscow where an American attached to the embassy in Moscow could walk in, knock on doors, ask questions, and try to get to know the people."

"But Americans in the embassy are always very careful about making contacts with Soviet citizens—for their sake. They don't want to do anything to make the Soviet police suspicious of the Soviet people."

"This is particularly true with American military men attached to the embassy."

The implication there is that they might be suspected of trying to learn military secrets or make spy contacts.

Further, while Rickover was able to go to Leningrad with Nixon to see the new Soviet atomic-powered icebreaker, Lenin, Americans assigned to their embassy are free to travel only within 25 miles of Moscow.

They can go farther than that only after filing notice with the Soviet government 48 hours beforehand—and then only with special permission. Many areas they can't visit at all.

The Soviets allowed Nixon and Rickover only a superficial examination of their icebreaker. This infuriated Rickover who has been accustomed to getting his own way in atomic doings in this country.

"We are getting the runaround," he said. "I want to see the inside."

He wanted to see the ship's atomic reactors. Nixon, who wanted to look at other things in Leningrad, backed him up but left Rickover on the ship, fuming.

The admiral reminded his Soviet hosts that when Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov visited the United States recently he was permitted to see the reactors of the new American atomic-powered merchant ship, Savannah.

The Soviets, after long consultations, let Rickover have his way. He spent two hours climbing around the reactors.

"A fine job, a good job for the purpose for which it was planned," he commented, but added the Lenin does "not represent an advance in the reactor art."

Court Denies Petition To Force Union Poll

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ninth District Court of Appeals has denied a petition filed by a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman which sought to force the 200,000-member Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen to hold a convention and elect officers.

The court ruled Monday it could not intervene in the internal rules of the Brotherhood in rejecting the mandamus petition of Clyde Titler, of Hiller, Pa. He had asserted the Brotherhood, under its constitution, must hold a convention every four years. The last was in 1954.

Dog Psychiatrist Insists She Can Talk with Canines

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If Fido bites the mailman, it's probably because somebody stole his favorite bone when he was a puppy.

If he chews the furniture, he's expressing a frustration complex, and hunger for affection.

If he spots the rug, it's because he feels insecure.

All this can be corrected by scientific psychological treatment, says Yvonne Henderson, of London, a dog psychiatrist.

Mrs. Henderson is in New York to explore the possibilities of establishing an office here.

"I am appalled at the lack of understanding of dog emotions here," says she. "New York dogs lead a dog's life, shut up in apartments all day long, left alone, with no companionship, no freedom, no love. It's no wonder they develop traumas and bite people."

"In England everybody owns a dog—they're as numerous as cars in America. And public rules and customs are geared for consideration of the dog population. You can take a dog anywhere in England—bars, restaurants, hotels, trains and buses. There we understand that a dog must have freedom and company if he is to be happy."

Mrs. Henderson has spent most of her life understanding dogs, as an international breeder, exhibitor and judge, a writer for dog magazines, canine correspondent for the London Times and friend of all dogdom.

How does she psychoanalyze a dog?

"Well, I don't usually use a couch," says Mrs. Henderson, "but if the dog likes to lie down, he may. I just talk to the dogs and find out what's worrying them, you know. How's that? Why, certainly I can understand what a dog is saying, and dogs always understand me."

"If a dog has a high I.Q., it's simple to work with him and iron out all his troubles. With a stupid dog it takes longer. But I've never yet met a dog with whom I couldn't hold a conversation."

I don't know how many times I have urged you to have a thorough checkup at least once each year. But this advice is just as sound today as it was the first time I mentioned it, over forty years ago.

To help you get as thorough an examination as possible, I suggest you request the following:

Have all organs—even if they appear to be functioning perfectly—tested for their efficiency. There are tests which will indicate how these organs react to a challenge and how they rate for future endurance.

Not only should they be tested at rest, but also under stress. For example, there is the Haines cold-water test for future high blood pressure and the Master test for the heart.

An anatomical test might reveal conditions which can be used as an aid to health and possibly in prolonging life.

Of course the doctor will take your complete medical history. If you see him every year, this is a relatively simple matter.

While this might not seem important to you, it is a great help to the doctor in trying to determine what might happen in the future as well as at present. Heredity, too, plays a major role in the overall picture.

The doctor will also want to know how you spend your work day and your leisure hours.

A comprehensive oral report will generally be of great value in helping him judge what your future health is apt to be. This will indicate to the physician just where the greatest stress is likely to occur.

And if you are abusing your health by overdoing anything during your leisure time, this will show up, too.

Another important aspect of a general over-all checkup is a psychological examination. Perhaps it would pay to consult a psychiatrist if you have any grave concerns or troublesome mental habits which are affecting your physical well being.

At least ask your doctor about it.

Question and Answer

Mrs. E.A.M.: What is myopia? Will a child afflicted with this have to wear glasses the rest of his life or will the glasses correct the condition?

Answer: Myopia is nearsightedness. The condition often increases until the age of 18 or 20 and then becomes stable. In later years it may improve somewhat.

Glasses are necessary to permit comfortable vision and to slow up the progressive process. Usually they will be necessary throughout life.

The World Today

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—An American's life in the Soviet Union seemed simple to U.S. Vice Admiral Hyman G. Rickover—until the Soviets told him "nyet," which is long for nix.

But he blew up such a storm that the Soviets, who probably never met anyone like the cocky, peppery Rickover before, finally said "da," which is short for yes.

What Rickover had seemed to forget or not understand was that, as a member of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's party, he toned in Moscow wouldn't or couldn't do.

Right after his arrival with Nixon, Rickover, in civilian clothes, strode into the American Embassy, called together all the American naval officers assigned to the embassy, and said: "Let's take a walk."

The parade started. He spotted an apartment house, darted in, knocked on the doors, had a Russian-speaking naval aide explain who he was, asked the tenants how they lived, what they did, how much they earned.

Once outside Rickover, a pioneer in the atomic field, must have felt he had just blazed a new trail in door-knocking. He asked an aide: "Did you ever do this?" When the man said no, Rickover replied: "Why not? It's the only way to find out things."

The story from Moscow didn't say what Rickover's naval aides said. They could have told him that Americans attached to the Embassy in Moscow are not as free to skip around and poke their noses into things as a member of the Nixon party. Many official Soviet doors have been opened—up to a point—for the official visitors.

One American government employee, who spent years in Moscow, explained to this writer: "There are some apartment houses in Moscow where an American attached to the embassy in Moscow could walk in, knock on doors, ask questions, and try to get to know the people."

But Americans in the embassy are always very careful about making contacts with Soviet citizens—for their sake. They don't want to do anything to make the Soviet police suspicious of the Soviet people.

"This is particularly true with American military men attached to the embassy."

The implication there is that they might be suspected of trying to learn military secrets or make spy contacts.

Further, while Rickover was able to go to Leningrad with Nixon to see the new Soviet atomic-powered icebreaker, Lenin, Americans assigned to their embassy are free to travel only within 25 miles of Moscow.

They can go farther than that only after filing notice with the Soviet government 48 hours beforehand—and then only with special permission. Many areas they can't visit at all.

The Soviets allowed Nixon and Rickover only a superficial examination of their icebreaker. This infuriated Rickover who has been accustomed to getting his own way in atomic doings in this country.

"We are getting the runaround," he said. "I want to see the inside."

He wanted to see the ship's atomic reactors. Nixon, who wanted to look at other things in Leningrad, backed him up but left Rickover on the ship, fuming.

The admiral reminded his Soviet hosts that when Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov visited the United States recently he was permitted to see the reactors of the new American atomic-powered merchant ship, Savannah.

The Soviets, after long consultations, let Rickover have his way. He spent two hours climbing around the reactors.

"A fine job, a good job for the purpose for which it was planned," he commented, but added the Lenin does "not represent an advance in the reactor art."

Court Denies Petition

To Force Union Poll

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ninth District Court of Appeals has denied a petition filed by a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman which sought to force the 200,000-member Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen to hold a convention and elect officers.

The court ruled Monday it could not intervene in the internal rules of the Brotherhood in rejecting the mandamus petition of Clyde Titler, of Hiller, Pa. Under its constitution, must hold a convention every four years. The last was in 1954.

Dog Psychiatrist Insists She Can Talk with Canines

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Fido bites the mailman, it's probably because somebody stole his favorite bone when he was a puppy.

If he chews the furniture, he's expressing a frustration complex, and hunger for affection.

If he spots the rug, it's because he feels insecure.

All this can be corrected by scientific psychogenic treatment, says Yvonne Henderson, of London, a dog psychiatrist.

Mrs. Henderson is in New York to explore the possibilities of establishing an office here.

"I am appalled at the lack of understanding of dog emotions here," she says. "New York dogs lead a dog's life, shut up in apartments all day long, left alone, with no companionship, no freedom, no love. It's no wonder they develop traumas and bite people."

"In England everybody owns a dog—they're as numerous as cars in America. And public rules and customs are geared for consideration of the dog population. You can take a dog anywhere in England—bars, restaurants, hotels, trains and buses. There we understand that a dog must have freedom and company if he is to be happy."

Mrs. Henderson has spent most of her life understanding dogs, as an international breeder, exhibitor and judge, a writer for dog magazines, canine correspondent for the London Times and friend of all dogdom.

How does she psychoanalyze a dog?

"Well, I don't usually use a couch," she says. Mrs. Henderson, "but if the dog likes to lie down, he may. I just talk to the dogs and find out what's worrying them, you know. How's that? Why, certainly I can understand what a dog is saying, and dogs always understand me."

"If a dog has a high I.Q., it's simple to work with him and iron out all his troubles. With a stupid dog it takes longer. But I've never yet met a dog with whom I couldn't hold a conversation."

Ohio Assembly Pulls Reins On Organized Labor Bloc

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Democratic-dominated Legislature, just ended, showed the liberal side of its hand to unemployed and injured workers.

But that liberality had a limit. When the chips were down—and when labor officials were pushing their hardest for top-dollar benefits increases—the lawmakers slammed on the brakes.

Strongest sentiment for higher benefits was in the Senate. The upper chamber always draws a larger share of its membership from the big cities than does the house. The House, with a larger rural representation, took a more cautious view.

Backed up strongly by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, the cautious view prevailed in a series of heated legislative battles.

Organized labor's biggest victory, perhaps was the legalization of Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB)—and that came early in the session.

The level of state-paid unemployment compensation was raised considerably. Present top benefit for an unemployed worker is $33 a week for 26 weeks. The new maximum, effective Oct. 15, will be $42 a week for 26 weeks.

Present law permits allowances for two dependent children at $3 a week each. The new law sets up three dependency allowances for a jobless worker, the first one at $5 and the other two at $3, and permits a dependent spouse to be counted as the first dependent.

All told, then, the top benefit will become $53 a week against the present $39.

The battle over workmen's compensation was one of the last big ones of the session and the final and successful draft of the bill was the seventh.

The top benefit level for an injured worker will be $49 a week, probably effective in November. Now it is $40.25 a week.

The death benefit to survivors of a worker killed on the job will go from $12,000 to $15,000, plus $1,000 each, a maximum of $18,000.

Workmen's compensation benefits for the so-called "old claimants"—from $25 to $40.25 weekly.

The benefit boost for the old claimants caused another row when DiSalle threatened to veto the entire measure unless the lawmakers provided the estimated seven million dollars to pay for them. The Legislature at the last minute, jammed through a special franchise tax on employers of three cents for every $100 of payroll.

The early SUB battle was over the Ohio Supreme Court's ruling that SUB benefits were remuneration in the meaning of the Ohio law and had to be deducted from state-paid benefits.

The Legislature passed one bill which legalized SUB on a permanent basis. Then, with Republican support, it later passed another bill providing immediate release of millions of dollars of SUB funds, backed up during the months the SUB issue was being fought out in the courts.

In another action important to those still jobless as a result of the 1958 recession, the Legislature continued, until Dec. 26, the special, temporary 13-week extension of unemployment benefits for those who have exhausted their regular 26 weeks of benefits and still are jobless.

IN CLEVELAND, Republic Steel pickets are in a fair way to demonstrate that picket line time can be put to extra use.

DiSalle Slated For Debate on Punishment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There's going to be a debate in Miami, Fla. on Aug. 24, during the American Bar Assn. meeting. The subject will be capital punishment, and Ohio's Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will argue against it.

And that, says DiSalle, is all he knows about it.

He said he thought originally that Sen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia was to be his opponent. Then Gov. John Patterson of Alabama was mentioned. But DiSalle says he has had no word who will advance the argument for the death penalty.

The meeting in Florida will climax a 10-day vacation for the governor, scheduled to begin after the General Assembly adjourns in mid-August. He attempted to get the Legislature to abolish the death penalty in Ohio, but was successful only in having a legislative study ordered.

DiSalle, Talmadge and Patterson are all Democrats.

Keeping Law, Order Said Big Job in Society

CLEVELAND (AP)—Maintaining basic law and order is the most fundamental task of our society, Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze told the state Fraternal Order of Police convention Monday night.

The mayor, guest speaker at a banquet for more than 400 persons, said this task has become more challenging with great population and technological changes. The changes have brought together great masses with widely diverse backgrounds, he said, adding:

"They are so interdependent on each other that their food, shelter and almost every other phase of their daily existence depends on finely balanced cooperation, regulated by what is perhaps the most complex concentration of laws to be found in all history."

"It is your job as policemen to do the impossible each day by encouraging this cooperation and, when necessary, enforcing the law in a way that is consistent with the tradition of individual liberty which we all share."

Carl C. Bare, Cleveland, state FOP president, and William J. Murphy, Columbus, state secretary, were unopposed in nominations and are assured of reelection today.

20 Firms Get Half Of Defense Orders

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Twenty large companies are getting 50 per cent of the government's defense contracts, Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today.

Sparkman, who heads the Senate Small Business Committee, said in a prepared senate speech that waste and inefficiency are widespread in Defense Department buying. He added that a lot of money is going down the drain in contracts negotiated without competitive bidding.

Sparkman said more than two-thirds of the prime contracts, in dollar value, are being let "without a vestige of competition."

Births During May Below 1958 Figure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Births during May dropped under those in the comparable 1958 month, the first time this had occurred in 1959.

About 338,000 live births were registered in May, 1.5 per cent less than the 343,000 in May 1958, the Public Health Service reported today.

The year's total for five months, however, was 1,709,000, up 1.8 per cent from the 1,679,000 in the similar 1958 span.

Since the nation's population increased between May, 1958, and May, 1959, the birth rate for the month this year was 22.6 per 1,000 population, compared with 23.3 a year earlier, a drop of 3 per cent. For the five months in each year it was 23.5.

Billie Burke Fears Stage Vanishing Except in New York

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Billie Burke, one of the great ladies of another era of the stage, sadly foresees the time when big-time theater will vanish from the land, except for New York.

"I don't see how touring shows can continue," she remarked. "The cost has gone up terribly. And most of the theaters are old and rundown. In time, I suppose there won't be any stage, except in New York, which can support it."

Miss Burke pitted new generations that might know nothing but canned entertainment.

"Wonderful things are done in the movies," she observed, "but after a year or so, you can scarcely remember performances that you have enjoyed."

"The stage has much more impact. You remember even the smallest things for years and years. There is something about seeing live actors that gives you a memorable experience. That's why the passing of Miss Barrymore affected so many people. They could recall the marvelous things she had done on the stage."

Miss Burke herself still returns to the theater occasionally. A summer ago, she toured with "Solid Gold Cadillac" and was delighted with the reaction—"there is no more beautiful sound than the laughter of a full theater."

Miss Burke is getting ready to appear in a Western, "Captain Buffalo."

The actress spoke about the present and the past in the den of her Brentwood home. She will be 73 Aug. 7, yet she remains an amazing beauty with soft skin and lovely reddish-white hair. She talks with affection about her husband, Flo Ziegfeld, whose bust and photos adorn her den.

"I don't think his contribution to the theater was truly appreciated," she commented. "He brought taste to the theater. He was careful with everything he did, supervising every detail of lighting and costumes."

"His musical contribution was enormous, too. He wouldn't accept poor work from his song writers. He told them, 'you can do better than this. Try it again.'"

STABBED FATALITY — Birmingham, Ala., police questioned Negro suspects in the fatal stabbing of a white man (above) tentatively identified as James P. Hannaker, about 29, a "very friendly, but quiet" trucker from Minneapolis. He allegedly was stabbed to death by three Negroes he had an argument with in Birmingham.

Little Hope Held for Boy In Canyon

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (AP)—National Park Rangers today resumed a slow, careful search for a Georgia youth, missing since Saturday on an ill-fated trek into the Grand Canyon.

There was little Hope Mason Owens, 16, of Savannah, would be found alive. The canyon's treacherous trails and searing heat already are known to have taken the lives of his two companions.

The body of the Rev. Eugene A. Gavigan, 30, a Catholic priest from Savannah, was found at the base of a 200-foot cliff in the south-east part of the canyon Monday.

It lay about 1½ miles from where the body of Walter J. Mahany Jr., 16, also of Savannah, was found Sunday.

Rangers said Father Gavigan died of injuries suffered in a plunge from a trail on the cliff's edge. Mahany died of exposure and lack of water while seeking help for the priest.

It was believed Mahany and Owens split up to seek help for the priest, although Rangers said Owens also may have been hurt.

Calvary EUB Class Schedules Picnic

The Crusaders Sunday School Class of the Calvary EUB Church will hold a picnic at 4 p. m. Sunday at Abney's cottage, Buckeye Lake.

New Scarf Styles Show Sophistication

THIS SELF-FRINED wool challis oblong is in a colorful traditional paisley pattern.

BIG ENOUGH AND bright enough for a high style accessory is this silk twill scarf.

By SUSAN BARDEN

The new scarf styles have acquired sophisticated manners for the fall and winter scene and are pictured worn in interesting ways to set off the latest fashions.

The challis oblong is just long enough to loop nonchalantly as an ascot. It's a style that makes an elegant top touch for both city costumes and country casuals.

Borrowed from the boys is a feminine version of the old school tie. It is shown looped to simulate a four-in-hand and is in vibrant geometric colors boldly outlined in black crayon to achieve a brilliant mosaic effect.

An exciting motif that resembles rather sophisticated finger painting gives a big square scarf an "avant garde" look. It is tied in a large, loose knot and the ends fall gracefully over the front of a dress or suit jacket.

The scarf is a smart choice for adding variety to dark autumn outfits.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Too Much of a Bad Thing

DEAR ABBY: My parents have been married for 44 years and they are still fighting. Every Sunday I take my children (age 11 and 13) to visit them because I feel it is my duty. It's a 22-mile drive.

From the minute we walk into the house, I have to be the referee. If my mother says it's a nice day, my father says it's too windy. If my father says his feet hurt my mother says if he didn't walk all over town his feet wouldn't hurt. All they do is argue and contradict each other.

My children are beginning to resent spending every Sunday there. I can't change my parents at this stage. Is there any solution? My nerves are about shot.

coffee I give her the kind we use, which is the finest coffee you can purchase. When she pays back the coffee she brings me some very inferior brand. I do not like to tell her that she should pay pay back the kind of coffee she borrows, but I don't know how to get around it.

COFFEE USERS

DEAR USERS: Keep the returned coffee on your cupboard shelf and when your little neighbor comes to borrow coffee—"lend" her her own coffee.

DEAR ABBY: I was recently divorced. I have two children. My husband gives me only $70 a month and I can't get along on that. I don't want to work out because I want to be home when my children come from school. I have an extra bedroom. I know a nice man about my age who is separated from his wife. He asked if he could rent the room. Do you think it would look bad if I rented the room to him?

RESPECTABLE

DEAR RESPECTABLE: Yes, it would "look" bad. You'd be better off renting the room to a female. A respectable woman must consider "rumors" when considering roomers.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose envelope.

Feds Down Stoutsville

Stoutsville suffered a 7-3 defeat at the hands of the Chillicothe Federal Reformatory nine in Southwestern Ohio League baseball Sunday.

Don Maynard hurled for Stoutsville. He allowed 15 hits, fanned eight and walked two. Wilky was the winning pitcher.

The Reformatory scored two runs in the first, three in the third and two in the seventh. Stoutsville picked up all three of its tallies in the fourth.

Collins and Crites paced Stoutsville at the plate, each getting three hits. The losers' other bingle was by Kerns.

Newton led the winners in hitting as he collected four bingles in five trips, including two doubles.

Pace Change Is Big Help To Purkey

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds' Bob Purkey says he's just lucky.

But Purkey at his best shows talent too. Monday night, he scattered nine hits in the Reds' 8-3 victory over St. Louis.

If the round-faced righthander says "luck" is his biggest asset, he also admits that the change of pace he learned last year is a big help.

"That good year helped my confidence tremendously," he said. "I picked up a change of pace and I think that's the best pitch in baseball. The fast ball, change, curve and knuckler are all I throw."

The stubby Pennsylvanian ran into some bad luck—or at least some defeats—last month, but still might be the Reds' winningest hurler again this season.

His only unlucky spot Monday night came in the fifth inning when the Cards turned on him for five hits and three runs, cutting an early Cincinnati lead to two runs.

Former Redleg George Crow's double and Don Blasingame's triple were the big hits.

Purkey's colleagues, however, used their half of the fifth to score two more runs and give him a softer cushion.

Willie Jones' single, Frank Thomas' double and Dutch Dotterer's sacrifice fly put one marker over and Thomas scored on Eddie Kasko's single.

The big blow of the Reds' 11-hit assault came in the fourth when Dotterer and Kasko singled and skinny Johnny Temple banged his fifth home run of the season.

Ohioan Stays Close To Ringer Champ

MURRAY, Utah (AP) — Harold Reno of Sabina, Ohio, stayed hot on the heels of undefeated nine-time champion Ted Allen of Boulder, Colo., Monday in the National Horseshoe Pitching Tournament. It concludes today.

Reno has won 27 of 28 games in the tourney. Standings of other Ohioans:

Paul Focht, Dayton, 20-5; Harold Wolfe, Cedarville, 10-18; Leonard Glass, Xenia, 9-19; Stan Manker, Martinsville, 6-22.

Jaycee Golf Field Is Thinned To 67

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Thirty-six holes of golf at Westbrook Country Club today will determine the four young golfers from Ohio who will go to the National Junior Chamber of Commerce Tournament at Portsmouth, Va.

The Ohio Jaycees junior golf tournament began Monday with a field of 158, but an 18-hole qualifier whittled that down to 67. Low man was 17-year-old Grant Kloppman of Cleveland, who shot a par 72.

All entrants are 18 or younger. The four with the lowest scores today will compete in the National in two weeks.

Local Teams Set For Tourney Tilts

Penny's Confectionery downed Beagles Service Station, 11-1, and Marathon Service trounced Sugar Tree Ridge, 13-0, in district tournament softball play at Jackson last night.

The Circleville Merchants go after their second win of the tourney in a contest tonight with Oak Hill Garage. The locals won their first test over Sugar Tree Ridge, 7-2. Oak Hill owns a 9-7 decision over Portsmouth Moose.

Stonerock's TV is slated to meet the Penny's nine Friday night. The TV outfit won its first test Saturday night in a 9-5 decision over Oil and Battery of Chillicothe.

Captain of Browns Hurt in Scrimmage

The injury appeared to be torn ligaments.

McCormack, team captain, suffered an injury to the same knee early last season, was sidelined for a month and never regained full effectiveness.

McCormack should be ready before the season opens, but there is some concern that the injury may be a chronic one.

Yogi Berra had only two minor league seasons—Norfolk, Va., and Newark, N. J. — before he was brought up by the Yankees.

PGA Test To Boast Fine Field

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The finest field and the finest course in years mark the 1959 Professional Golfers' Assn. championship which starts here Thursday.

Arrivals for the tournament haven't concerned the possibility of winning the top money of $5,500 or more but the superb condition of the 6,850-yard, par 35-35-70 Minneapolis Golf Club course in suburban St. Louis Park.

Dow Finsterwald, the defending champion, tabs this as one of the half-dozen best courses in the United States.

It's a lush, well-watered layout that will penalize shots that stray more than a yard or two off the fairways. They even had sprinklers working Monday while the players were tuning up their shots. In spite of this, Jackie Burke, the 1956 champion, fired a 2-under-par 68 and a few others shaded par.

Gene Littler, who won his fourth tournament of the year a little over a week ago, had no kind words for his game after hitting the 10th green—the showpiece of the MGC, with his tee shot—and then losing the hole by three-putting.

The only complaint about the course has been that a couple of fairways — notably the 581-yard 15th, longest on the course, and the 430-yard 17th, were rather narrow.

"That 17th is like looking down a church aisle," commented Bob Toski, the 1954 Tam O'Shanter world champion.

Bobby Avila Puts Spark In Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bobby Avila is proving that competent second basemen are the spark-plugs that make the Milwaukee Braves baseball machine run the best.

Since he joined the Braves last Wednesday, Milwaukee has changed a rout into a chase and is challenging for the National League lead.

Two years ago, after just missing the title in 1956, the Braves traded with the Giants, then of New York, for Red Schoendienst and went on to win their first pennant since moving to Milwaukee. He was at second again last year and the Braves repeated.

Tuberculosis hit the veteran infielder out of the lineup this year. A parade of replacements attempted to fill the post. The Braves turned to the American League and bought the 33-year-old Avila from the Boston Red Sox.

In his first game with Milwaukee, Avila's first hit was a ninth-inning home run that beat the Cincinnati Reds and snapped the losing streak.

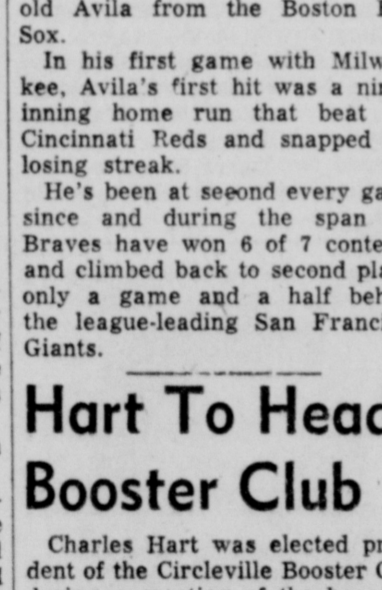

He's been at second every game since and during the span the Braves have won 6 of 7 contests, and climbed back to second place, only a game and a half behind the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

Hart To Head Booster Club

Charles Hart was elected president of the Circleville Booster Club during a meeting of the board of directors held last night at the BPO Elks.

Frank Gill was named vice president. Walt Arledge was reelected treasurer and Bob Shadley was re-named to the secretary post.

The next meeting is scheduled for the second Monday in August in the Gill home on Lynwood Ave.

THAT TEARS IT!—The Tigers' Harvey Kuenn looks ruefully over his shoulder to see how much damage was done to his uniform pants which he ripped sliding into third in a game against Washington in Detroit. Before start of next inning Harvey switched to a new pair.

New Big Loop Plans 8 Teams

Biggest Question Is: Where To Get Players

NEW YORK (AP) — The five founding cities of the third major baseball league — the Continental League—plan to operate in 1961 with at least eight clubs.

Where will they get the players? Will they work with the other majors? Or outside the present structure?

These questions will be battled around when the founders meet Aug. 18 with Commissioner Ford Frick's seven-man committee from the existing majors.

New York, is one of the five founders. The names and backers of the others were announced Monday at a news conference by Bill Shea, chairman of Mayor Wagner's baseball committee.

Toronto, Houston, Denver and Minneapolis-St. Paul round out the group of founders. Shea listed 11 cities that have evinced interest in joining. They are Buffalo, Montreal, Atlanta, New Orleans, Miami, Indianapolis, Dallas-Fort Worth, Seattle, Portland, Ore., San Diego and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Shea said he hoped to have two or three more cities lined up with the founders before his group meets with Frick's committee. He declined to reveal details of his plans for securing players from existing major league teams and their minor league farms.

The new league said it expected full cooperation from the American and National leagues, who voted in May to favorably consider applications for major league status by "an acceptable group of eight clubs which could qualify."

Shea said the league would have a minimum of eight clubs, perhaps 10 and more than 12 when fully organized. It will play a 154-game schedule.

"We are proceeding on the basis of complete and unqualified cooperation of the two existing major leagues," Shea said in a statement.

Shea also disclosed the league had arranged to comply with a request from Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) to appear July 31 in Washington before an antitrust subcommittee.

GE Blanks DuPont in 10-0 Contest

General Electric breezed to a 10-0 win over DuPont in a mud-spattered Babe Ruth game at Ted Lewis Park last night which was all at the end of four innings when time ran out.

Pitcher Harold Hartley twirled a three-hitter to handuff the DuPont swatters over the four innings of play. GE unlimbered for seven safeties to notch the test.

GE hit paydirt in the first on walks to Johnny Good and Granville Jones and a single by Ted Gulick. The winners came back for five runs in the second on four walks, a long double by Sam Weller and singles by Johnny Good and Ronnie Clifton.

GE picked up two more runs in the third on singles by Jim Wellington and Clifton, a walk to Weller, a fielders choice and an error. The last run in the fourth resulted from three walks and John Good's single.

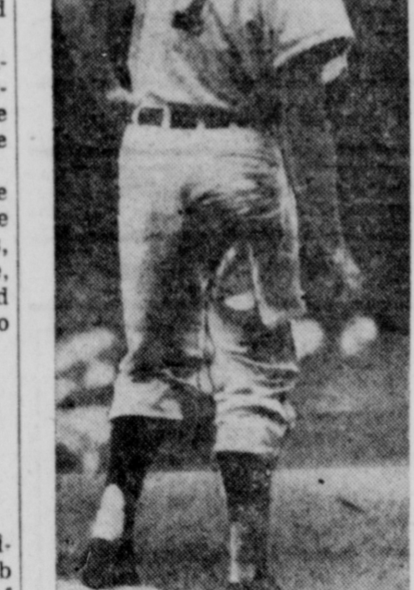

Promoter Is Sure Of Title Match

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — Promoter Bill Rosensohn is sure Ingemar Johansson will defend his heavyweight title against Floyd Patterson as per agreement in the United States in September.

Edwin Ahlquist, the champion's advisor, says there will be no negotiations until all questions about Ingemar's purse for the first fight, June 26, are fully settled.

Johansson said he surely is going to the United States. He added henceforth he would only sign contracts "where I can see the signature of my challenger on the opposite side."

Ahlquist and Rosensohn held conferences all day Monday. Then Ahlquist called a press conference to explain that the promoter was going back to New York today to get a complete financial statement on the first fight.

Ward's Tops 3rd National; 1st National, Plastic Tie

A rout and a tie ball game marked Little League minors play last night at Ted Lewis Park.

Ward's Market trounced Third National, 18-4, to move into second place. Lincoln Plastic rallied in the bottom of the final inning to tie the league leading First National, 8-8.

The Plastic-First National game will be resumed from point it was suspended at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday as set down by Commissioner Mike Harrison. The Bankers held leads of 4-0 and 6-2 during the contest but National errors and clutch hitting by Plastic tied up the thrilling contest.

Plastic trailed 8-5 going into the last half of the sixth inning. National's pitcher walked the first two men to face him and then a single by Sheldon McManies and a wild throw counted two runs.

McManies tallied the tying run. With the bases loaded and one man out, the pride of Stoutsville, Buddy Strehle, grabbed a hot line drive, turned and tossed to third for the final out, preserving the tie.

First National outhit Plastic, 12-8, but committed four errors to Plastic's one. Strehle led First National at the plate with a 2 for 4 night, including a double. Teammate L. Sykes also had a two-bagger.

Merle Bethel and McManies had 2 for 4 for Plastic. Bethel and Danny Gibbs had doubles. Bethel and D. J. Henry hurled for Plastic while Sykes and Strehle held forth for First National.

Bethel and Henry walked five and fanned nine. Sykes and Strehle whiffed three and issued seven walks. McManies and Gibbs had two RBIs each.

Held scoreless in the first inning, Ward's rapped Third National for two hits and nine runs in the second stanza to ice their contest.

Doug Pontious hurled his first hit for Ward's, allowing just one hit, striking out three and walking nine for his initial victory. Rod Sines finished up for Ward's, walking seven and fanning one.

ALTHOUGH WARD'S pitchers gave up 16 walks, excellent and spirited infield play kept Third Na-

Yankee rookie John Blanchard hit 34 home runs for Binghamton, N. Y., to lead the Eastern League in 1955.

Steve Burger, who played his last game for Ward's as he moves up to Ralston Purina today, had a triple and Doug Pontious added one. Tom Griffey had the only hit for Third National, a single through the box.

The Bankers were hurt by eight errors. Ward's miscued twice, allowing National three runs in the fourth inning. Hill had five RBIs for Ward's and Barnhill followed with three.

Today's action, which will be played if at all possible, will have three games on tap. Yesterday's games were played in sawdust and mud.

Feds Down Stoutsville

Stoutsville suffered a 7-3 defeat at the hands of the Chillicothe Federal Reformatory nine in Southwestern Ohio League baseball Sunday.

Don Maynard hurled for Stoutsville. He allowed 15 hits, fanned eight and walked two. Wilky was the winning pitcher.

The Reformatory scored two runs in the first, three in the third and two in the seventh. Stoutsville picked up all three of its tallies in the fourth.

Collins and Crites paced Stoutsville at the plate, each getting three hits. The losers' other bingle was by Kerns.

Newton led the winners in hitting as he collected four bingles in five trips, including two doubles.

Conservation Reserve Info Available for 1960 Program

Farmers of Pickaway County who are interested in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank for the 1960 crop season will be able to get full information at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office after the middle of August, ASC Chairman Marvin Stealy said today.

This will be the fifth year of the Conservation Reserve, under which farmers contract to withdraw general cropland from production and protect it with conservation uses for a period of 3 to 10 years. The national program for 1960 was announced recently, but it will be several weeks before county personnel has full details, Stealy said.

The 1960 Conservation reserve will be similar to the 1959 program Stealy said, except that substantially less acreage will be taken into the program than last year — only about 5 million acres nationally as compared with approximately 13 million last year. The basic national rate of payment will be $13.50, the same as in 1959.

The principal changes in the program this year will be:

1. Land owned by the state, county, town, or local government will be ineligible for the program — a rule which is already in effect for federal land.
2. Land which has changed ownership (except through inheritance) since Dec. 31, 1956, is ineligible to enter the program in 1960.
3. If land under a 1960 Conservation Reserve contract is sold, the contract generally may be assumed by the purchaser only after it has been in effect for 3 years.

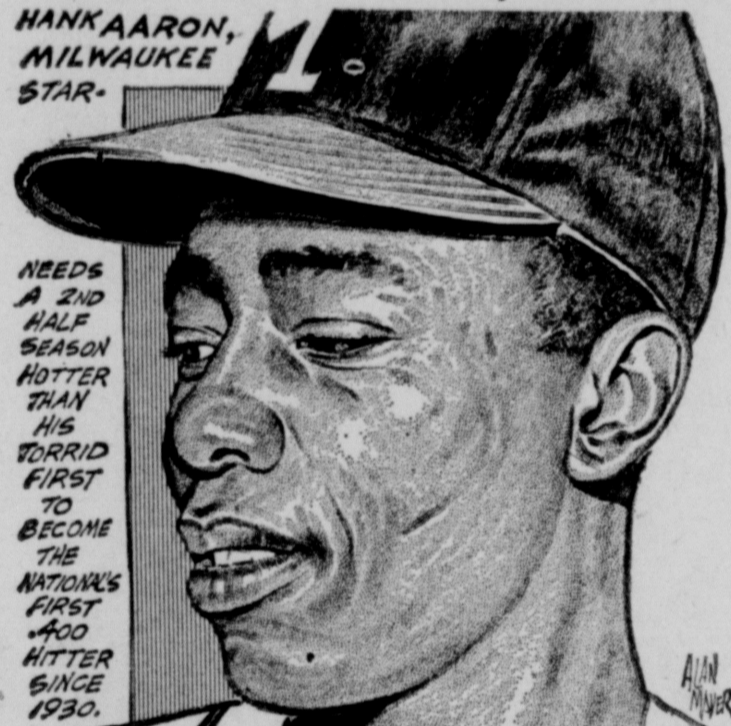

AS IN 1959, the 1960 Conservation Reserve will be conducted on an offer-and-acceptance basis. The first step will be for the farmer to inform the county office of the land he wants to place in the program and request that a basic per acre rate be established for that land. These rate requests may be filed at the county office beginning Aug. 24 and must be filed not later than Sept. 10 if the farmer wants to be considered for a 1960 contract.

The county committee will establish the rate, setting it 10 per cent higher if all eligible cropland on the farm is to be retired.

After the basic rate has been determined, the farmer may apply for a contract at any figure below that rate. In case the county receives more applications than it can accept, priority will be given to the farmer offering the land at the lowest rate compared with the basic rate established for his land. Conservation Reserve Info Available for 1960 Program

Farmers of Pickaway County who are interested in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank for the 1960 crop season will be able to get full information at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office after the middle of August, ASC Chairman Marvin Stealy said today.

This will be the fifth year of the Conservation Reserve, under which farmers contract to withdraw general cropland from production and protect it with conservation uses for a period of 3 to 10 years. The national program for 1960 was announced recently, but it will be several weeks before county personnel has full details, Stealy said.

The 1960 Conservation reserve will be similar to the 1959 program Stealy said, except that substantially less acreage will be taken into the program than last year—only about 5 million acres nationally as compared with approximately 13 million last year. The basic national rate of payment will be $13.50, the same as in 1959.

The principal changes in the program this year will be:

1. Land owned by the state, county, town, or local government will be ineligible for the program—a rule which is already in effect for federal land.
2. Land which has changed ownership (except through inheritance) since Dec. 31, 1956, is ineligible to enter the program in 1960.
3. If land under a 1960 Conservation Reserve contract is sold, the contract generally may be assumed by the purchaser only after it has been in effect for 3 years.

AS IN 1959, the 1960 Conservation Reserve will be conducted on an offer-and-acceptance basis. The first step will be for the farmer to inform the county office of the land he wants to place in the program and request that a basic per acre rate be established for that land. These rate requests may be filed at the county office beginning Aug. 24 and must be filed not later than Sept. 10 if the farmer wants to be considered for a 1960 contract.

The county committee will establish the rate, setting it 10 percent higher if all eligible cropland on the farm is to be retired.

After the basic rate has been determined, the farmer may apply for a contract at any figure below that rate. In case the county receives more applications than it can accept, priority will be given to the farmer offering the land at the lowest rate compared with the basic rate established for his land. For example, if the basic rate on a farmer's land is set at $12 an acre, he will have a better chance of getting a contract if he offers the land at $9 an acre than if he offers it at $10 or more.

For most farms, placing land under contract will require a corresponding acreage reduction in grains, oilseeds, and rowcrops, which are known as Soil Bank base crops. The per-acre rate will be earned each year the contract is in effect. In addition, a farmer can get a cost-share payment to assist in establishing approved conservation uses on the land.

Burglary Reported At New Holland

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department yesterday investigated a breaking and entry case at the McCune Service Station in New Holland.
Deputy Robert Hoover said a coin box containing about $40 in change was taken from a cigarette machine. Nothing else in the station appeared to be disturbed, he said.
Hoover said entry was gained by prying a frame from a window. The burglary apparently happened Sunday night, he added.

New Civil Rights Panel To Start Work Wednesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's new Civil Rights Commission, created to ban racial discrimination in employment, will hold its first meeting here Wednesday.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said he will appoint the full five-member commission in time for the session in his Statehouse office.
He named Richard E. Guggenheim, an official of the Cincinnati chapter of the American Jewish Committee, as chairman last week.

Guggenheim is visiting New York and Massachusetts to learn about operations of their anti-discrimination bodies first hand. The governor gave no indication at a news conference of the identity of other commission members.

They will receive $5,000 a year and expenses. A $12,000-a-year director will serve fulltime. The commission can enforce anti-discrimination orders through courts against unions and employers of four or more persons.

Creation of the Civil Rights Commission was promised by Democrats in their 34-plank state platform.

Reviewing the platform pledges, DiSalle said only three failed to win approval in the party-dominated Legislature. They called for a minimum wage law, protection against unethical practices by unions and others and a new state utility rate-making formula.

The governor also got most of his administration recommendations enacted. He expressed surprise over failure of a proposal to provide prison terms for persons conspiring to commit crime.

"This was the strangest of all," DiSalle asserted. He said no opposition appeared during committee hearings, yet the measure aimed at crime's "big brass" got nowhere.

He added that failure of the Legislature to enact a ban against conflicting outside interests for public officials did not end the need for such laws.

"We feel that it was a very successful session," the governor observed. "Many of the first terms gave a lot of promise of becoming fine public officials. The majority leaders worked hard all the way through. It may have lasted a month longer than an ordinary session but this was not an ordinary session. More long range legislation was passed than in the last 25 years."

The governor explained that the session may have run longer than usual because Democrats did not attempt to stifle bills in committee.

"I felt that the relationship was more in keeping with the kind of government that I believe in," he said.

The governor indicated that he may veto another bill or two but gave no hint of what he has in mind.

Following final adjournment of the Legislature Aug. 14, DiSalle plans to take a 10-day vacation. It will end after he attends an American Bar Assn. convention in Miami, Aug. 24. At the convention, he plans to engage in a debate on capital punishment. DiSalle was unsuccessful in inducing the Legislature to end the death penalty in Ohio but the Legislature ordered a study.

Soon after his return from Miami, DiSalle said, he will start his tour of Ohio to explain the need for his tax-increase program enacted by the Legislature.

Massillon Mayor Gets Council Prod

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—A city councilman has called on complete control over the city's drive to clean up gambling.

The mayor went before Council Monday night to give a detailed, secret report on the clean-up operation. Councilman James Young told his colleagues:

"I don't think the job of cleaning up the town can be considered completed. Since the responsibility for preserving the peace is in the chief executive, I feel it is a problem for the city administration and not a legislative one." During the special meeting, councilmen heard in private certain confidential information from the mayor and 10 police raiders who also presented tape recordings.

Fifteen members of the city's 28-man police force have staged 25 raids on gambling operations, resulting in 11 arrests. Police Chief Stanley Switzer resigned last week when the mayor told him to quit or be fired.

a minimum wage law, protection against unethical practices by unions and others and a new state utility rate-making formula.

The governor also got most of his administration recommendations enacted. He expressed surprise over failure of a proposal to provide prison terms for persons conspiring to commit crime.

"This was the strangest of all," DiSalle asserted. He said no opposition appeared during committee hearings, yet the measure aimed at crime's "big brass" got nowhere.

He added that failure of the Legislature to enact a ban against conflicting outside interests for public officials did not end the need for such laws.

"We feel that it was a very successful session," the governor observed. "Many of the first terms gave a lot of promise of becoming fine public officials. The majority leaders worked hard all the way through. It may have lasted a month longer than an ordinary session but this was not an ordinary session. More long range legislation was passed than in the last 25 years."

The governor explained that the session may have run longer than usual because Democrats did not attempt to stifle bills in committee.

"I felt that the relationship was more in keeping with the kind of government that I believe in," he said.

The governor indicated that he may veto another bill or two but gave no hint of what he has in mind.

Following final adjournment of the Legislature Aug. 14, DiSalle plans to take a 10-day vacation. It will end after he attends an American Bar Assn. convention in Miami, Aug. 24. At the convention, he plans to engage in a debate on capital punishment. DiSalle was unsuccessful in inducing the Legislature to end the death penalty in Ohio but the Legislature ordered a study.

Soon after his return from Miami, DiSalle said, he will start his tour of Ohio to explain the need for his tax-increase program enacted by the Legislature.

Massillon Mayor Gets Council Prod

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — A city councilman has called on complete control over the city's drive to clean up gambling.

The mayor went before Council Monday night to give a detailed, secret report on the clean-up operation. Councilman James Young told his colleagues:

"I don't think the job of cleaning up the town can be considered completed. Since the responsibility for preserving the peace is in the chief executive, I feel it is a problem for the city administration and not a legislative one."

During the special meeting, councilmen heard in private certain confidential information from the mayor and 10 police raiders who also presented tape recordings.

Fifteen members of the city's 28-man police force have staged 25 raids on gambling operations, resulting in 11 arrests. Police Chief Stanley Switzer resigned last week when the mayor told him to quit or be fired.

AIR SKIMMER—Spray almost obscures Britain's new Hovercraft as it skims up on the beach at Dover, England, after crossing the English channel from Calais, France. The trip took two hours, three minutes. The flying saucer-like Hovercraft has a fan in its middle which raises it about a foot off the water or land surface and air jets propel it forward.
